

VX18504

Directed by Meryl Tankard

presented by atyp
and CarriageWorks

*from backyard brawls to the ravages of war
... a physically charged exploration of the origins of conflict*

23 July to 2 August 2008
CarriageWorks
245 Wilson Street, Eveleigh

BOOKINGS: 1300 723 038

carriageworks

australian theatre
for young people

www.ticketmaster.com.au
photo by Regis Lansac

VX18504

Directed by Meryl Tankard

presented by atyp
and CarriageWorks

Australian Theatre for Young People (atyp) ... always pushing the boundaries with brave & innovative theatre for the young actors of today. The actors who will continue a great tradition into tomorrow.
BEV KENNEDY, Arts Hub, 2008

atyp's 2008 major production VX18504, co-presented and performed at Sydney's hottest contemporary performance venue CarriageWorks, will once again see its young members pushing boundaries. Internationally acclaimed director and choreographer, Meryl Tankard, will direct an exceptional cast of performers aged 12 to 26 in a work of high-energy physical theatre.

Don't miss this rare opportunity to see this exuberant and thought-provoking blend of theatre and dance, as Meryl Tankard and the young cast explore the origins of conflict in our society, from childhood cruelty and backyard brawls to the ravages of war. Profoundly moving, this unique theatrical experience speaks to audiences of all ages, amplified by the humour, optimism and boundless energy of a youthful cast.

23 July - 2 August 2008

Previews: Wed 23 July, 8pm & Thurs 24 July, 11am

Season: Fri 25 & Sat 26, Tues 29 July - Sat 2 August, 8pm

Matinees: Mon 28, Tues 29, Thurs 31 July & Fri 1 August, 11am

CarriageWorks

245 Wilson Street, Eveleigh

TRAIN: nearest stations Redfern or Mcdonaldtown

TICKETS: $22 adults / $18 concession / $15 atyp members

BOOKINGS: ticketmaster 1300 723 038 or visit www.ticketmaster.com.au

